<h1>SoundVision Full RMR Growth Strategy and Service Membership Research</h1>

Objective: To grow SoundVision AV's recurring monthly revenue (RMR) from approximately 3% to 10% of total annual revenue by expanding its service membership offerings, adjusting pricing strategies, leveraging past customers, and implementing best practices from within and outside the AV integration industry.

<h2>1. Tiered Membership Strategy</h2>
Top integrators successfully use tiered plans to accommodate different service levels. SoundVision currently offers:
<ul>
<li>Elite ($90/month): One annual tune-up, guaranteed 1-hour response, remote support, same or next-day scheduling, weekend support. Site visits billed at $125/hr.</li> <li>Elite Plus ($190/month): All Elite benefits plus two included service visits, proactive remote monitoring via OvrC, concierge-level support.</li> <li>Custom: Tailored pricing based on system complexity, including estates and specialty installs.</li>
</ul>

<h2>2. Fixed vs. Variable Pricing Models</h2>
Research indicates that fixed-pricing (flat monthly rates) is more successful for AV integrators than variable pricing.
It provides predictability for both the company and client, encourages proactive service, and simplifies marketing.
<ul>
<li>Fixed Plans: Support bundled into clear, marketable packages with high-margin tiers (50-60% gross margin).</li> <li>Variable Models: Reactive and harder to sell; only viable when paired with proactive tools (e.g., network usage-based service tiers).</li>
</ul>

<h2>3. Value-Added Services</h2>
These features help differentiate tiers and justify higher RMR:
<ul>
<li>24/7 or extended-hours support (outsourced or in-house)</li>
<li>OvrC-based remote monitoring with real-time alerts</li>
<li>Proactive maintenance (annual tune-ups, firmware updates)</li>
<li>Loaner equipment and concierge tech visits</li>
<li>Annual system health audits and upgrade recommendations</li>
</ul>

SoundVision RMR Growth Strategy & Service Membership Research

- Dedicated support lines

4. Upsell & Bundling Tactics

- Default inclusion of Elite plan in new system proposals

- Free 3-month trials for new installs

- Leverage moments of system failure for plan conversion ("join today for priority service")

- Bundle with security monitoring or NaaS

- Reward multi-year plan loyalty with hardware discounts

5. Monetizing Underutilized Services

Turn previously free support into monetized features:

- Remote firmware updates and troubleshooting

- Phone support over 15 minutes as billable

- OVRC monitoring visibility presented as a service

- Network management (e.g., proactive Wi-Fi optimization)

- Quarterly or annual performance reports

6. Raising Legacy Rates Without Churn

- Use 60-90 day phased increases to align legacy customers with Elite pricing

- Communicate added service value clearly (faster response, fewer disruptions)

- Offer loyalty incentives (e.g., 1 month free, complimentary check-up)

- Pilot rollout with most loyal clients to test messaging

7. Expanding RMR Despite Limited Project Volume

Strategies to drive RMR growth when project count is capped:

- Retroactive outreach: Identify $10K+ past projects; offer enrollment with incentives

- Standalone memberships: Open support plans to homes we didn't install (with system audit)

- Partner with builders/realtors: Bundle 1-year Elite plan with every new construction smart home

- Seasonal plans: Offer 3-6 month "holiday tune-up" packages

- Network-as-a-Service: Launch standalone Wi-Fi and internet support plans with monitoring

8. Tracking and Team Incentives

- Track active memberships, total monthly RMR, and conversion rates using Google Sheets or iPoint

- Offer bonuses or spiffs to techs or sales team for each plan conversion

9. Benchmarks and Goals

Metric	Current	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3
